UNIVERSITY DAYS DESCRIPTIONS

All Start Times are Central Standard Time Zone

Register for a College Specific Half-Day! Registration includes only half-day participation.

SEPTEMBER 21

College of Human Environmental Sciences
The College of Human Environmental Sciences brings together disciplines that impact the human condition including clothing, textiles, and interior design; consumer sciences; public health; athletic training; human development and family studies; human nutrition and hospitality management. Presentation and student panel Q & A.

College of Arts & Sciences
Study what you love while unleashing your impact with the College of Arts and Sciences. Whether you're interested in science, the arts, or the inner-workings of culture and society, the College of Arts and Sciences has an academic home for you.

This session will introduce you to the hundreds of majors and minors available to you through the College of Arts and Sciences as well as the careers and co-curricular opportunities that await you through fields as varied as neuroscience, cybercrime, and the arts. This is an opportunity for you and your family to learn more about your academic fit by engaging with our students, faculty, and staff. During this half-day event, you will:
• Hear from the Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences
• Participate in a faculty Q&A session
• Connect with current students
• Learn how we support your academic and personal goals throughout your college experience to help you achieve success

OCTOBER 5

College of Education
The College of Education is the largest teacher preparation college in Alabama. Programs lead to certification in various fields: early childhood education, elementary education, physical education, music education, secondary education, and special education. In addition to our teaching majors, if you are interested in working in health, fitness and wellness, our major kinesiology with a concentration in exercise science is a great program to prepare you for physical therapy, medical school and general health focused careers. Educational neuroscience, our newest major, is the only undergraduate educational neuroscience program in the country. Educational neuroscience is a rapidly expanding area of behavioral neuroscience that has led to new ways of understanding the learning process and the conditions under which learning occurs.

Your visit will include:
• Interaction with the College Dean and faculty
• Informational sessions with academic advisors
• Conversations with student leaders
• Parent/Guardian Q&A with Dean

Culverhouse College of Business
The Culverhouse College of Business is an inclusive community engaged in innovative research, service, and rigorous learning – with a personal touch – that develops highly respected business leaders who solve challenges of the global society.

The Culverhouse College of Business will be recognized internationally as a leading business school shaping the future of business based on its reputation of:
• Premier academic programs
• Research contributions by internationally acclaimed scholars

OCTOBER 10

Multicultural Visitation Program
Multicultural Visitation Program (MVP) is an on-campus event that assists you in learning more about The University of Alabama. This is an opportunity for you and your family to visit campus and meet with our culturally diverse faculty, staff, students and alumni who share similar backgrounds and life experiences to yours.

This event includes:
• Student Q&A session with current students
• Parent/Guardian Q&A session with faculty and administrators
• An overview of life on campus
• Information about majors and minors
• Available academic and student support services
• Scholarship information
• Campus tour
UNIVERSITY DAYS DESCRIPTIONS

All Start Times are Central Standard Time Zone

Register for a College Specific Half-Day! Registration includes only half-day participation.

OCTOBER 19

College of Arts & Sciences
Study what you love while unleashing your impact with the College of Arts and Sciences. Whether you're interested in science, the arts, or the inner-workings of culture and society, the College of Arts and Sciences has an academic home for you.

This session will introduce you to the hundreds of majors and minors available to you through the College of Arts and Sciences as well as the careers and co-curricular opportunities that await you through fields as varied as neuroscience, cybercrime, and the arts. This is an opportunity for you and your family to learn more about your academic fit by engaging with our students, faculty, and staff.

During this half-day event, you will:
- Hear from the Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences
- Participate in a faculty Q&A session
- Connect with current students
- Learn how we support your academic and personal goals throughout your college experience to help you achieve success

NOVEMBER 3

College of Engineering
We invite you to learn more about UA's College of Engineering! We will showcase our academic programs, scholarships, student services, and professional development opportunities. The University Days session will include a presentation, as well as a Q&A panel discussion with current UA engineering students. Facility Tours of the College of Engineering will be available in the afternoon. Advance registration for the Facility Tour is required. Information on registration for Facility Tours will be communicated once your registration for University Days is confirmed.

School of Social Work
The University of Alabama's School of Social Work prepares scholar-practitioners and researchers committed to ending adverse social conditions and promoting societal well-being through teaching, research, and service.

Our comprehensive degree programs allow students to participate in service-learning and field opportunities to gain hands-on social work practice while honing their skills in the classroom. Our innovative approach to learning continually attracts bright and talented students and top social work professionals seeking an education from a well-respected university with prestige behind its name.

NOVEMBER 10

Capstone College of Nursing
For those who are drawn to serving others, the nursing profession offers a myriad of opportunities to fulfill that need. At University Day, we plan to share how the Capstone College of Nursing provides a stimulating environment in which to explore a career in nursing in today's health care system. During this one-day event, you will:
- Hear from the Dean of the Capstone College of Nursing
- Learn about the traditional Bachelor in Science program
- Participate in a faculty Q&A session
- Connect with current students

College of Communication & Information Sciences
Experience the College of Communication and Information Sciences! During this University Day session, prospective students will learn about the five majors available within C&IS as well as experiential learning and internship opportunities. Students will explore Phifer and the Digital Media Center through our virtual tour, and will hear from a few of our C&IS Ambassadors sharing how they navigated their college careers as C&IS students.